What's the Story with AR Games?, Sunday, 1:00 PM, 230

Alternate Reality (AR) games have become more and more popular, drawing in authors, artists, and fans. Join players, developers, and a new breed of community builders to discuss why these games were introduced, how players have taken the game ideas and created new communities, and the way these games bring gaming out into the real world.

Learn about player-created communities, who organize to trade resonators or pocket monsters, or form plans to "conquer" regions of seemingly peaceful towns and cities. Some enjoy the games while also taking part in community service projects, while others use the games as a tool to discover new places. These games have been remarkable not just for the technology of creating images that overlap real-world objects, but for getting diverse groups motivated to play together and form real-world relationships that extend beyond gaming.

This is not a panel on the next update or which side you should choose.

The following description has been added for Night Flyers, Thursday, 4:00 PM, in LL21AB, with George R. R. Martin and Jeffrey Buhler:

Don't miss legendary author George R.R. Martin and showrunner/EP Jeff Buhler for an intimate conversation about SYFY's highly anticipated new series—Nightflyers based on Martin's novella. Set in the year 2093, Nightflyers is a psychological thriller that follows a team of scientists aboard the most advanced ship ever built. Their mission takes them to the edge of space but also to the edge of insanity, as they realize true horror isn't waiting for them out there—it's already on their ship. Experience the terror, and a special sneak peek, during the panel.

Portions of this panel will be filmed for promotional use by SYFY and its partners.
